

The Bees Knees: Bipolar Poetry

It is her soul passion to reach bipolar individuals through the written word of poetry to help set them free. It is her greatest pleasure to hopefully inspire those who are in the howling season to hang on and live the life that God can give them. It is an abundant life that is rich in fulfillment. It is something that she never believed she would ever experience this side of Heaven. She warmly invites you into the pages ahead where she prays that you will find peace from the burning in your mind and find life where so much death has been.
